The Wayback Machine - https://web.archive.org/web/20120608023205/http://math.mit.edu/mathlets/mathlets/ma…

- Home
- About
- Applets
- Courses
- Activities
- Forum

Matrix Vector

- Run Applet in Browser
- Run in Java Window
- Applet help file

Description

The product of a matrix and a vector depends in interesting ways on the entries of each. Eigenvectors represent a coincidence of direction.

Activity

Theory

Demo

Leave a comment

Name (required)

Email Address(required)

Submit Comment

-

RECENT POSTS:

New Videos Added
New calculus Mathlets!
Taylor Polynomials in Aerospace Engineering
Stability in Aero-Astro
TEAL Meets the Mathlets

-

RECENT COMMENTS:

- Dan on TEAL Meets the Mathlets
- Bill on Stability in Aero-Astro